Reform has not yet copped out in either Butler, Cleveland, or Pattison.

The greatest man this generation has produced is Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes. He has refused to take the lecture field at $500 a night.

Mme. Nilsson is experimenting with plans to bring on sleep. Did she ever try reading one of the St. Louis newspapers? Sure cure.

"Buffalo Bill" is sick they say, with pneumonia, at Newburg, on the Hudson. "Pneumonia" was used out of charity for the generous fellow.

The public schools of Wisconsin cost $2,378,996 during the year 1882. The total number of children enrolled in the public schools of the state was 303,452.

There are no signs yet that the senatorial office in Michigan will be compelled to seek the man. An office was never known to go a begging in this country.

The saddest fate of the tariff bill in congress can suffer, is to be talked to death. They should either pass it or kill it, but not murder it by long speeches.

A good many important bills will fail of passage this session because the democrats are working to obstruct business. The bill to divide Dakota is one of the bills.

None of the reform governors elected last fall have done anything so far to raise their expectations for 1884. In the campaign they wore one thing, in the gubernatorial chairs quite another thing

We live in a strange country. While one section is suffering from inundation, another section, not 400 miles away, is having a temperature of 20 degrees below zero.

The Inter Ocean remarks: "Of the 500 criminals in the Southern Illinois penitentiary, 115 were drunk at the time their crime was committed. Our state legislators will please make note of this argument for high license legislation.

Congress would give a good deal if it now had some of the time that it wasted last winter and summer. Just at a moment when power is slipping out of their hands, the republicans appreciate the all importance of time.

The senate of Pennsylvania has set an example that our legislature might very wisely follow. It has decided to hold sessions every secular day during the week. This is a very simple reform but it is a very good one.

The Newhall house coroner's jury have rendered a verdict, and say that the fire was incendiary, and also find that the owners of the hotel were guilty of culpable negligence. The public knew these things before, so that the finding of the jury does not enlighten the public.

In settling up some of his expenses in the senatorial contest in Colorado, Mr. Bowen, who finally got the dazzling prize, found his cigar bill amounted to $600, and his washing 75 cents. Cigars had more influence in that canvass than clean linen.

There will soon be a practical reform in operation in regard to postal orders These will be dropped in a few days, at least orders for sums of five dollars or less, and in their place will be issued a postal note, about the size of a greenback, and made payable to the bearer. The order will be issued for three cents, another reform, much needed. Similar notes are used in England, and last year no less than 4,462,920 of them, amounting to over $10,000,000, were issued. They were in circulation, on the average, only six days, showing that there is little danger of the notes being used as currency.

Recently the operations of a number of Chicago grain firms were exposed which demonstrate that fools are not all dead. These firms solicited ten-dollar investments by means of tens of thousands of circulars sent in all parts of the country. The Philadelphia Times takes time to remark that it "fairly beggars belief that enough idiots could have been found in this country to contribute $75,000 by mail and $30,000 by express within the short space of twenty days to fill the pockets of a syndicate of conscienceless rascals. The government finds it necessary to interfere and prevent the delivery of the mails to the thieving firms. If it was possible to find out who the fools are who have so soon parted with their money the authorities would be justified in committing them to an institution for the feeble-minded."

Some of the metropolitan newspapers of the east are not swift to condemn Mr. Vincent, state treasurer of Alabama, for stealing $300,000 from his state. Of course they do not justify the theft, but claim his state set the example of dishonesty which Mr. Vincent followed. The moral to this whole business is thus pointed out by the New York Tribune:

Mr. Vincent had been speculating in cotton futures. Like Mr. Polk, of Tennessee, he evidently saw no harm in using as his own the money which his state had stolen from its creditors. If the state had no morals and no conscience, why should he have any? Alabama's repudiation record is an especially black one. The principal of her debt amounted to $28,040,470. The unpaid interest upon this up to July 1, 1876, was estimated at $6,000,000. By various ingenious processes, $15,466,091 of the principal was repudiated, and the whole of the $6,000,000 of interest. More than this, the interest upon the debt which was not repudiated has been cut down so regularly that even if the bondholders are paid at the end of the thirty years which their bonds are to run, their total loss from the beginning will be about $28,000,000, or nearly the whole amount of the original debt. A state so infamously dishonest as that can not expect honesty in its officials. Mr. Vincent is no more of a thief than his state of Alabama is.

THE NEWHALL FIRE.

The Responsibility for the Great Loss of Life Placed on the Shoulders of the Proprietors.

A Verdict Charging Them with Culpable Negligence Rendered by the Coroner's Jury.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 6.—The coroner's jury having under consideration the testimony given in the Newhall house investigation last evening rendered the following verdict:

"We, the undersigned jury, find that on the 19th of January, 1883, Allen Johnson (only one of the victims having been selected for this purpose) came to his death by leaping or falling from an upper story window of the Newhall house in his efforts to escape the rapid approach of fire, and thereby suffered such injury as caused death. We further find that the said fire commenced at or near the elevator-shaft and rose rapidly to the upper stories, spreading through the corridors, stairways and roof, thereby shutting off nearly all communication of the inmates with the corridors and fire-escape, and forcing them to the windows as the only means of saving themselves. We further find that the said Newhall house was set on fire and burned on the morning of Jan. 10, 1883, at about 3:50 a. m., by a person or persons to the jury unknown. We further find that one night watchman was employed by the proprietors, which was insufficient, and that he had other duties to perform, at which times he could not properly attend to that duty and awaken the inmates in case of fire. We further find that the night watchman and night clerk, by obeying the previous instructions of the proprietors lost valuable time in useless efforts to extinguish the fire and neglecting to arouse the inmates, and when the attempt was made they found the upper corridors filled with black, hot, stifling smoke, that obliged them to retreat and seek their own safety. Therefore, we find the proprietors were guilty of culpable negligence in not having employed a sufficient number of watchmen to guard the house against fire and awaken the inmates in time to save all the lives possible. We also find that the Newhall house was easy of egress and devoid of intricate passages, with two outside escape ladders on the northeast and the southeast corners, a bridge on the southwest corner leading across the alley from each floor to the opposite building, and on the northwest corner there was an inside servants' stairway from the fifth floor to the basement; also two large and open stairways in the front corridors leading from the office floor to the sixth story, and an open ladder to the roof. Nevertheless we find that the owners of the Newhall house, knowing that many fires had taken place at various times at the hotel, are guilty of culpable negligence in not having provided more outside escapes in case of fire. We believe that many lives sacrificed in said fire could have been saved had not the chief of the fire department been absent at another fire two miles distant, at which he had nearly half the force, but that he responded to the alarm as soon as possible; that the misfortune was further enhanced by the absence of the assistant chief of the fire department, who unfortunately, was absent on leave, but who responded to the alarm promptly, arriving at the fire too late to prevent the destruction of the hotel and the serious loss of life that took place; that the fire department did their duty as well as could have been expected, and could have done much more had the ladder trucks been fully manned and equipped with the best extension ladders and the men well drilled to handle them; that had the so-called Buestrin fire-escape extension ladder been manned and equipped ready for use on the first alarm of fire, instead of lying useless in the shed, it would have been the means of saving many of the unfortunate persons who were vainly calling for help from the upper stories of the Newhall house; and we find that the telegraph poles and wires caused serious obstruction to the fire department by preventing them from using their ladders in a speedy and efficient manner at a time when they were so much needed.

"J. C. CORRIGAN,
"J. B. THOMPSON,
"THOMAS J. FRANEY,
"JOHN O'CONNELL,
"ROBERT DAVIES,
"CHARLES KUEPPER, Coroner."

The verdict gives general satisfaction.

THE GRAND JURY.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 6.—At 11 o'clock yesterday the grand jury recently impaneled to hear testimony bearing upon the supposed incendiary who caused the Newhall house blaze, and to determine finally and fully the amount of responsibility attached to the landlord and owners of the hotel for the loss of life that followed, was called in the municipal court.

Judge Mallory appointed John A. Dutcher foreman, and charged the jury in the usual manner, the only reference to the fire being made in the following language:

"Your first duty will be to ascertain whether the fire was the work of an incendiary, and should you decide in the affirmative, then upon whom by the evidence produced, suspicion rests; and if there is any sufficient grounds upon which to base indictment, you may also present your views on the management of the hotel—whether the guards against fires were sufficient, and whether after the fire started there was any dereliction of duty on the part of the management, or the departments of the city."

The judge briefly alluded to the benefits that would accrue to the future from such a procedure, and, after promising them all the assistance in his power, gave the jury over to the sheriff.

Children's Pensions.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—An interesting and entirely new pension claim is now before the assistant secretary of the interior for decision. The guardian of the children of a deceased soldier has applied for the back pension of $2 a month, due each child from the time of their father's death. The children's mother neglected to make application for a pension for herself or family, and finally married. The claim of the guardian was rejected at the pension office by the examiner, who held that the marriage of the widow barred all rights to the family to a pension after that date. Her neglect to apply for a pension at that time was construed as a further difficulty in the way of allowing the claim of a guardian at this late day. The assistant secretary is of the opinion that the mother of a family entitled to a pension occupies the relation in law of a trustee, and any failure or neglect on her part to apply for or secure the allowance of pension due the children can not work to their prejudice. He will accordingly decide that the children are entitled to a pension from the time of their father's death until they arrive at the age of 16 years, the second marriage of the mother having nothing to do with the claim of the guardian.

Fears of the Fenians.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Sir William Vernon Harcourt, home secretary, is the subject of most extraordinary precautions, it is presumed, because of fears of attacks on him by Fenians. Gladstone has received a threatening letter, announcing that arrangements have been made to murder him if he returns to London.

CONGRESS.

An Heated Personal Colloquy Between Randall and Burrows of Michigan.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Yesterday Mr. Sherman presented a memorial of the Ohio legislature, asking the passage of a bill for the increase of pensions to one-armed and one-legged soldiers.

Mr. Van Wyck offered a resolution directing the committee on pensions to inquire whether claim agents in Washington were practicing extortion for their services in procuring various claims for soldiers and soldiers' widows or orphans. Referred.

After an executive session, the tariff bill was taken up. Mr. Morrill appealed to the senators generally to vote for the bill, and not leave the question unsettled, thus alarming and deranging all the business interests of the country.

A motion offered by Mr. Beck to make the duty on stockings, hose, half-hose, shirts and drawers, fashioned, narrowed, or shaped, wholly or in part, by knitting machines or framers, or knit by hand, 35 instead of 45 per cent. ad valorem, was lost—yeas, 27; nays, 27. Mr. Beck then moved to make the rate 40 Agreed to—yeas, 31; nays, 24.

On Mr. Beck's motion, the rate on cotton cords, braids, gimps, etc., not specially enumerated, and corsets of whatever composed, was reduced from 40 to 35 per cent., and the rate on cotton laces, embroideries, insertings, trimmings, lace curtains and cotton velvet was reduced from 45 to 40 per cent.

The remainder of the session was taken up with a discussion of the tariff bill.

HOUSE.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Cobb, to prevent the secretary of the interior from issuing patents to land-grant railroads where such roads have not been completed within the specific time.

Mr. Grant moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill establishing the territory of North Dakota, and providing a temporary government therefor.

In the course of the debate which followed, Mr. Burrows of Michigan regretted that a purely business question should be dragged down as a political one.

Mr. Randall inquired whether the admission of a state was a purely business question.

Mr. Burrows—This is not the admission of a state, and the gentleman knows it. It is impossible to pass an admission bill——

Mr. Randall (from his seat)—I hope so.

Mr. Burrows—And now he admits in his seat that it is so. He admits that there is no truth in the statement.

Mr. Randall—What do you mean by "no truth"?

Mr. Burrows—There is no correctness in the statement.

Mr. Randall—Does the gentleman mean that I have not the right—

Mr. Burrows—I don't want to be drawn away from my argument.

Mr. Randall—I do not want the gentleman to be offensive.

Mr. Burrows—I hope the gentleman will look at this as a business question.

Mr. Randall—I desire to ask whether you mean to dispute my word?

Mr. Burrows—I decline to yield.

Mr. Randall—This is the last place in the world I would seek a controversy, but the gentleman has said that there is no truth in what I said.

Mr. Burrows—The gentleman misunderstands me.

Mr. Randall—I want you to be a man, and if you want to insult me do it in some other place than here.

Mr. Burrows—When I stated to the gentleman that it was not proposed to admit Dakota at this session—that it could not be done—I understood the gentleman to say, "That is so."

Mr. Randall—I said I hoped so.

During the controversy the house was in great confusion, and it was difficult to distinguish what was said by the members.

A motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill was lost—yeas, 151; nays, 110—not the necessary two-thirds in the affirmative.

A motion to suspend the rules and bring up the legislative bill for action was lost.

Mr. Kelley moved to suspend the rules and adopt the following resolution:

"That on the 12th of February, or on any day thereafter, the committee of whole on the state of the union, having consideration of the house tariff bill, is hereby empowered to order the bill and amendments thereto to the house for its action, with such recommendations as may be determined upon by a majority of the votes of said committee, and, on Feb. 12, a motion made in committee of the whole to rise and report the bill to the house shall take precedence of a motion to amend."

The motion was lost after a lengthy discussion.

The Cost of the Census.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—J. C. G. Kennedy, the author of the census laws of 1850, has written a letter to Senator Ingalls showing that when Senator Hale stated that the cost of the census of 1880 thus far had been $4,500,000, he underestimated the amount by nearly $1,000,000, and Mr. Kennedy predicts that $8,000,000 will be expended before the work is completed. Gen. Walker, who had been appointed superintendent of the census, had requested that the amount be appropriated in a lump without any designation of the specific purposes to which it should be applied. He represented that in this way he would be better able to carry out his plans. It was understood, of course, that the scope of his undertaking would be much wider than that of the census of 1870, or any preceding census, and this accounted for the enlarged appropriation, that of 1870 having been about $2,500,000, and that of 1860 about $1,750,000."

GOUGAR-MANDLER.

The Floods Cause a Postponement of the Case--A Card from Mrs. Gougar.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Feb. 6.—There was a badly disappointed crowd at the court-room yesterday. Judge Gould, who is hearing the Gougar-Mandler case, resides at Delphi, and could not get here. Telegrams from him announced that he would be on hand to-day. Additional complications are likely to arise. Peter Smith, one of the jurors, is reported down with lung-fever. He lives some miles from the city. Should the report prove true, a delay would be necessary, unless the plaintiff and the defendant should agree to go on without him. If the plaintiff would consent to let off Shipley and Obenchain the defendant would be likely to be willing to drop Smith.

Mrs. Helen M. Gougar, in her newspaper, above her own signature, says in regard to her slander suit: "About twenty or thirty witnesses have thus far been examined in behalf of the defendant, but as yet not a particle of testimony has been introduced bearing upon the pretended occurrence which the defendant says he saw on the night of the 19th of November last, and which is the real subject matter of the controversy. Our whole life, as seen and judged by defendant's witnesses, is being presented to the jury, as preliminary to the introduction of evidence on the main issue. It is not proper that, pending the trial, we should attempt to detail the testimony, or comment upon it. We shall at present do no more than keep our readers posted as to the progress made in the proceedings. In all the annals of the persecution of women such a spectacle has never been presented or such an insult to womanhood and justice been enacted."

More Room Anyhow.

A Boy in Search of a Career.

New York Sun.

A boy in his 14th year, with a girlish face and lisp was found straying about the streets of Providence at 1 o'clock in the morning, and taken to a police station, where a search revealed on his person a big pistol, a gimlet, a pair of scissors, a tallow candle, a Police Gazette, and some novels with such titles as "The Wharf Rat's Revenge" and "Cannoneer Ben; or the Pirate's Last Shot." His intention was to commit a few ordinary robberies at home, and then start out for greater achievements in the far west.

His honor consented to the delay, and the result was a withdrawal of the proceedings.

RAGING TORRENTS.

Terrible Effects of the Freshet in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

People Compelled to Abandon Their Homes and Flee to Places of Safety.

The Damage to Property already Estimated at Millions of Dollars.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 6.—The damage by the flood in the immediate vicinity of Pittsburg and Alleghony City will not be less than $200,000. Most of it is in the destruction of small river craft. The rest is in the inundation of dwellings, manufactories, and oil refineries. The flood in the Allegheny reached its maximum at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, when there was twenty-six feet depth of water at this city. Reports from up the river state that the water is receding and all danger is now over. The river as it swept between the two cities here, watched by thirty thousand people, bore upon its bosom every form of debris—bridges, trees, barges, stables, lumber, sheds and fences. Along the Monongahela river the most serious damage so far is from back-water, which is in the cellars of all the warehouses along Water street. No great damage is apprehended from this river, however, as there is but little coal or craft at the lower landings, the rise of last week having resulted in nearly all the loaded craft being shipped to the lower ports. Had it not been for this fortunate circumstance the loss would have been very heavy. In Alleghony City many of the streets are inundated to the depth of several feet and men and boys are turning honest nickels by conveying people to and from their residences in skiffs. The Union line street-cars are running on some of the streets over which they pass in a foot and a half of water. The tracks of the West Pennsylvania road, between Tarentum and Kennedy stations, about twenty miles from the city, are for a long distance two feet under water. The bridge across the river at Alleghony Junction is badly damaged and unsafe. About 5 o'clock yesterday morning the bridge across the Alleghany, from Alleghany City to Herr's island was washed away. The huge structure floated swiftly down the stream, and striking with great force against the first pier of the Chestnut street bridge flew into pieces. The footway of the obstructing bridge was torn away, and the bridge was closed against travel until it was ascertained that it had not been rendered unsafe by the shock. Twenty-six families reside on Herr's island every foot of which is now covered with water. Two young men residing there, who discovered early in the morning the danger threatening the inhabitants, rowed in a skiff from house to house, warning the dwellers of their great peril. Some escaped safely to the railroad before the bridge was carried away, but there are still on the island twenty persons, who are completely cut off from help. On the island is Rhodes' pipe and tube mill, which has suffered heavy damage. The night watchmen in the mill, Myers and Kino are caged there without provisions. Such a thing as attempting to reach the island or leave it by means of boats is not thought of while the ice is running as it is now, and to what extent the people are supplied with provisions is not known. They have not made signs of distress, however, and some of them occasionally wave their hands cheerfully to the crowd on the shore. At Sharpsburg, just above Alleghony City, considerable damage has been done. Walker & Darragh estimate their loss at $7,000 on 500,000 feet of lumber. They have only 10,000 feet left. The Ætna iron-works are partially flooded, the water having backed up into the fly-wheel pit. Thirty families living in houses on the river bank have been compelled to move out. Most of the mills and manufactories along both of the rivers are partially submerged and therefore idle. The aggregate loss will not be short of $200,000 and may reach $250,000. All the railroads centering here have sufferod severely in one way and another.

News from some of the adjacent counties of western Pennsylvania shows that the flood has been as destructive elsewhere as here. In Butler county the Pittsburg & Western railroad loses every bridge from Colliery Junction to Alleghony. The water was higher in Armstrong county than since 1865. One-third of the town of Kittaning is submerged, and one hundred families have been driven from their dwellings. The suffering of the people is said to be very severe. Reports from Newcastle, Lawrence county, state that the loss in that county will be $100,000. Many bridges have been swept away and large numbers of cattle drowned. At Meadville and Franklin, in Crawford county, nearly every family in the lower part of the cities loses something. The railroad shops, manufactories, and gas works have no tenant but water. At Connellsville, in Fayette county, on the Youghiogheny river, the river is extraordinarily high and still rising.

The upper Youghiogheny and its tributaries are still heavily forged with ice, and there is a strong probability that when it comes down great damage will be done before it reaches the Monongahela. In Forest county lumbermen along the Alleghony river and its affluents have suffered more than ever before. It began raining there Friday night and continued without interruption until Sunday morning, when the ice began moving, carrying rafts, timber, and everything of a movable character with it, causing the heaviest losses ever known to the lumbermen of that section. Everything was swept out of Tionesta creek at Kelletville. The break came on so suddenly that it was with difficulty the residents saved their lives by fleeing to the mountains, leaving their horses and cattles to perish. One lost twelve head of team horses. Valuable lumber machinery will be greatly damaged at Tionesta, as well as along the river. All families living on the flats were compelled to make a hasty retreat from their dwellings, the water rising in a few hours within two feet of as high as the flood of 1865. What promised to be the most prolific lumber season ever known has turned out to be the most disastrous. The total loss will not be less than $1,000,000.

MEADVILLE, Feb. 6.—The water is receding rapidly now and has fallen about fifteen inches from the highest point. A very few, if any, families in the flooded district are benefited as yet or able to reach their houses. Business and schools were suspended yesterday, all the factories being under water. How much damage has been caused cannot be estimated until the water subsides. All the telegraph wires are down except one direct to Oil City. Dozens of bridges are washed away on the principal creeks, and small bridges are swept away by the scores. It is thought trains will be able to get through west by this evening, as the river bridge seems to be solid. The planing-mills, cooper-shops, tanneries, Phœnix iron-works, glass-works, wood and lumber yards, distilleries, and New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio car-shops are all heavy losers, while many merchants, hotels, and private families suffer losses which make a large aggregate. The city is still in darkness, owing to the flooded gas-works. No mails have been received later than Saturday morning. A public meeting to organize for home relief will be held to-day. In the meantime the people driven from their homes by the high water are being cared for in hotels and private residences. The weather continues very cold and ice is forming in the deserted houses, making the destruction of furniture and carpets more complete.

OHIO.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 6.—The flood of water which began pouring down the Cuyahoga, Saturday afternoon is rapidly subsiding. The devastation which has been wrought cannot be comprehended in all its proportions, and the sight presented to view is a strange and terrible one. From one side of the valley to the other nothing but a confused mass of debris is seen. Lumber piles were overturned and floated away, railroad cars were tumbled about in every conceivable manner; bridges were carried off or made useless; vessels were torn from their moorings and left high and dry on the docks, while huge chunks of ice were spread all over the territory adjoining the river. It is estimated that the loss to the lumber yards alone will amount to over $300,000. Four immense lumber gorges were formed by the torrents, in one of which is mixed a large three-masted schooner. Large gangs of men were employed breaking these gorges. Slow progress is made, however, as work is very difficult and hazardous, lumber, laths, shingles, and oil barrels being wedged and frozen into almost a solid mass. Protruding from the top of the upper gorge is the roof of a small one-story frame house, on the end of which is a finger-board bearing these words: "Railroad crossing. Look out for the cars." Gardner, Clark & York lost $5,000 worth of salt and flour. Strange as it may seem, the flood has been attended with the loss of but one life. Rumors of bodies seen in the lake and river are numerous, but are not credited by the police, who patrolled the flooded district night and day. Telegraphic communication, cut off by the washouts and sleet-storm, is being rapidly established. A wire was got through to Toledo yesterday afternoon, that city having been cut off since Saturday. Robert and Edwin Mastrick, who live on Rocky river flats, several miles from the city, had in exciting time Saturday evening. Their mother died during the day. In the evening Robert started to go to a neighbor's and was carried away by the waters. He caught a tree and climbed up among the branches, where he remained until morning. Edwin went to the barn and was imprisoned there all night. Towns and cities in the interior have many of them suffered great loss. In Tuscarawas county bridges have been swept away. The Marietta & Cincinnati, the Cleveland, Tuscarawas Valley & Wheeling, the Pan Handle, and the Cleveland & Pittsburg railroads are heavy losers. An ice-gorge four miles long and many feet high has formed in the river near New Comerstown, and threatens the destruction of the village. At Fremont all the business men were driven from their stores and shops, and boats were necessary in many of the streets. Three hundred families were driven from their homes, and at 6 o'clock last night the water continued to rise. Two men are known to have been drowned, and many others are supposed to be. There is great suffering among the homeless people, and aid is being sent them. The Ohio canal is broken in hundreds of places, and will cost a great amount of money to repair.

Among the railroads there is great confusion, all those whose tracks were anywhere near the level of the flood being utterly disabled. The injury to shipping was comparatively light.

FREMONT, Feb. 6.—The water fell a little over a foot Sunday night and some of the business men of the west side of Front street could get in their stores from the back doors. But at 6 o'clock last night the water had risen six inches, with fears of it continuing. The reports of suffering are many, there being at least three hundred families driven from their homes. The gas-works are flooded, and the city has to depend on lamps and candles. An old man named Gleason is known to have been drowned, but his body has not been recovered. This makes two persons who have lost their lives, and there were many narrow escapes. A meeting of citizens was held at the city hall yesterday morning to make arrangements to feed and shelter the homeless people. Committees were appointed, and they report several thousand dollars raised and a quantity of provisions collected. The school-house on the east side is being used to shelter a large number of people, and the city hall is also being thrown open. It is impossible to estimate the loss, but it will be over $1,000,000 to our people.

OTHER POINTS.

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb.—The river at this point is now thirty-six feet, and is rising slowly. The prospect is that the water will reach thirty-eight feet. But little damage has been done here beyond the flooding of yards and vacant lots. Reports from Benwood and Bellaire, four miles below, say those towns are partially submerged, but only slight damage to property is reported. Six barges belonging to the tow-boat George Lysle, which were harbored below the Baltimore & Ohio railway bridge at Bellaire, broke loose and were carried away.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 6.—Pogue's run, which extends through the central portion of the city, overflowed its banks and filled the cellars for several squares adjoining. The wholesale houses on South Meridian street kept their employes working all night removing goods from the basements, and in several cases building small levees around their houses. No one sustained any very great loss from the heavy rains, but a number of business houses were damaged to a slight extent. The total loss in the city will not probably reach $10,000.

FORT WAYNE, Feb. 6.—Telegraph communication has been again restored in all directions. The rivers are falling, though trains are delayed by bridges being in a dangerous condition. At Elida, Ohio, a town of 500 inhabitants, south of Fort Wayne, the railroads are entirely submerged. The people had to be assisted from their houses out of second-story windows. At Dolphos and Van Wert, Ohio, the same state of affairs prevail.

PHŒNIX PARK MURDERERS.

The Little Girl Witness Identifies Kavanaugh.

DUBLIN, Feb. 6.—Yesterday at the investigation of the murder conspiracy cases the court was crowded, lords and high officials being present and showing a careful discrimination in the issuing of tickets of admission. Michael Kavanaugh, the carman, marched into the prisoners' dock between two policemen which usual proceeding caused much speculation. The prisoner has a low, retreating forehead, sinister appearance, and looks anxious and nervous. Brady, when he entered the prisoners' dock, had a swaggering manner. Kelly was pale, but defiant looking. James Mullett laughed when the charge concerning the Phœnix park murders was read, but none of his companions joined him. Much time was occupied in proving the letting of the large room on Peter street to James Carey, ostensibly as a reading room, but really for the purpose of drilling men. He left the room in October, 1877.

The little girl witness, Ellen Brophy, identified Kavanagh as the driver of the car containing the men who intended to assassinate Field the juryman. She says she spoke to him, and asked him whom he was waiting for. She saw him when going on messages three times in half an hour. Immediately after her return the third time she heard cries of murder, and immediately ran to the door. By that time there were two men besides the driver on the car, the third man just mounting. She was only able to identify Kavanagh. She was severely cross-examined, but never faltered. When Kavanagh was identified he blushed and smiled uneasily.

Vanderbilt's Plans.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The followers of Mr. Vanderbilt say that this year will witness a great development in his property. They claim that by acquiring the Indianapolis & St. Louis, Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati & Indianapolis railroad and the Alton & Terre Haute, by getting into Cincinnati and St. Louis, he enlarges his southwestern business, and that by getting control of loading and enlarging his interests in Pennsylvania he will get a large quantity of the important coal traffic.

Murder and Suicide.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 6.—John C. Parker, the murderer of Mike Payton, whose case was docketed for trial in the criminal court, shot his wife through the head about noon yesterday in the jury room of the court, and afterward sent a bullet into his own brain. Presley N. Jones, attorney for Mary Craft, sister of Parker, and Deputy Sheriff Walters were in the room at the time. It is thought Mrs. Parker furnished the weapon. She was instantly killed.

Cox on Horr.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—On Saturday afternoon Mr. Horr, of Michigan, made a humorous speech on the tariff bill, in which he alluded to Sunset Cox. This is the way in which Cox retorted in kind:

"Now, as to my friend from Michigan, the house does not know—and I tell this confidentially—the reason why my friend from Michigan has been so very seriously minded this season; why he has failed to come up to that fine standard of humor we all expected from him. It is not because he was beaten for congress. He was not beaten. It is hard to beat a man in the west with that sort of unctious fun in him. But I tell you what is the matter: he has a twin [laughter]—I mean a twin brother. That brother was nominated in an Ohio district where there was 8,000 Republican majority. But the twin was beaten, and ever since our friend from Michigan goes around the house pawing for the twin. He wakes up in the middle of the night and looks after his brother. [Laughter.] I like it; it is fraternal; it is good; but it destroys that magnificent humor that formerly juiced itself through his veins."

All ladies know their faces are attractive when free from pimples. Parker's Ginger Tonic is popular among them because it banishes impurities from blood and skin and makes the face glow with health.

SILVER COINAGE.

The "Dollar of the Daddies" Insured a New Lease of Life.

The Coinage Committee Deem it Inexpedient to Discontinue the Issue of Silver.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The house committee on coinage, weights and measures yesterday adopted, by a vote of 6 to 2, the following resolutions, and instructed Mr. Belford to report them to the house:

"Resolved, That it is inexpedient to discontinue the coinage of silver under existing laws.

"Resolved, That all coin now in the treasury, with the exception of an amount not exceeding 25 per cent of the outstanding greenback circulation as a redemption fund, and also excepting all sums held for redemption of outstanding gold and silver certificates, should be at once used in the payment of outstanding interest-bearing obligations of the government, which are subject to call and payment. And as it is, in the judgment of this committee, inexpedient to suspend the coinage of the standard silver dollar under the existing law, and as in the judgment of the treasury officials additional vault room for the safe storage of coins should be provided,

Resolved, That this committee recommend that the committee on appropriations appropriate such sum as they shall be advised as necessary for providing such additional vault room, and we further recommend such additional vault room should be located in the Mississippi valley at such point, or points, as shall be determined by the secretary of the treasury."

Representative Fisher presided, and Representatives Belford, McClure, Lacey, Payson, Hazeltine, Singleton, Rosecrans, Bland and Delegate Luna were present. Those in favor of the resolution were Belford, McClure, Payson, Singleton, Rosecrans and Bland. Those opposed were Fisher and Lacey; not voting, Hazeltine.

The only members of the committee absent were Messrs. Reese and Washburn. In the discussion preceding the final vote upon the resolutions, Fisher and Lacey opposed the 25 per cent provision as altogether inadequate for the reserve fund.

The issue of standard dollars from the mints last week was $198,000, against $117,000 for the corresponding time last year.

A BURNT BILLIARD BALL

Seems to Vindicate Scheller's Innocence of the Newhall Disaster.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 6.—Patrick Moore, a laborer, while passing the Newhall ruins a week ago, saw a billiard ball in the debris and prying it out with a stick carried it home. It was so badly burned that it fell to pieces while the children were playing with it, and the fragments were thrown away. The matter having attracted attention, a search was made and the remains of the ball found. Chemist Bodo made an examination and at once pronounced the fragments of ivory. As the ball was taken from the ruins and is of ivory, it is a startling point in the defense. The strongest evidence against Scheller has been that he surreptitiously removed his costly billiard balls before the house was fired. As it was thought ivory could not be destroyed by fire, and as no balls were found in the ruins it looked pretty hard for Scheller. This settles all doubts about fire not consuming ivory. It is the strongest clew to Scheller's innocence yet obtained.

It is rumored that workmen and others have taken a number of partially consumed billiard balls from the ruins, and that they have all been taken charge of by the police.

Gov. Foster Says that Ohio will go Republican.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Governor Foster will remain here a day or two. He says the campaign in Ohio this fall will be one of great interest, and if the Democrats have an idea the Republicans propose to allow it to go by default, they will be greatly mistaken.

"You have no idea, governor, that the Republicans will carry Ohio this fall, have you?"

"Yes I have decidedly an idea that way."

"And that you will elect the legislature?"

"Yes."

"And bag the senatorship?"

"Certainly."

"What do you base such a delusive hope upon?"

"Upon the fact that the Republican party this fall will be united. The Democratic party, on the other hand, will be divided. There are too many prominent Democrats who want to come to the senate, and of course Senator Pendleton wants to remain. Between these and their followers there will be war, and this brings with it discord and strife. This will encourage the Republicans, and make our lines solid. Yes, we will elect a Republican governor, a Republican legislature, and bag that senatorship."

Railroad Accidents.

BUFFALO, Feb. 6.—A bridge over Ischua creek, on the Buffalo, New York & Philadelphia road, having been undermined by the flood, gave way while a train was crossing it. Engineer Hall and Fireman Briggs were drowned, and Conductor Love, four passengers, and the baggageman are said to have lost their lives.

SIDNEY, Ohio, Feb. 6.—Freight and passenger trains on the Dayton and Michigan road collided yesterday afternoon near Loro, killing both engineers and a baggage-master, and badly injuring the two firemen. The accident arose from a misunderstanding of orders.

Starving to Death in Ireland.

DUBLIN, Feb. 6.—A man was found starved to death at Loughrea, county Galway. At the inquiry the poor law guardian said the case was only one of many. A crowd of hungry people gathered in front of the residence of the Rev. Patrick Duggan, Roman Catholic bishop, Clonfert, Sunday. The bishop informed them he and the priests had distributed every shilling available, and said the opening of the relief works was the only resource left to relieve the suffering.

The Immigration Tax Law Unconstitutional.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The United States supreme court decided invalid the act of the New York legislature imposing upon steamship companies a tax of $1 for every alien passenger brought from foreign ports to New York.

The Emperor's Thanks.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Bismarck has sent to his diplomatic agents in the United States a letter expressing the gratitude of Emperor William for contributions forwarded for the Rhine suffers.

Miss Blaine's Marriage.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The marriage of ex-Secretary Blaine's daughter to Col. Coppinger, paymaster in the army, takes place here to-day. The affair is the talk of society people on account of the difference between the ages of the contracting parties. Miss Blaine is not 20 years of age yet, while Col Coppinger is said to be nearly 50. They met for the first time several months ago at Leavenworth, Kas., where Miss Blaine was on a visit. Her parents never saw Col. Coppinger until last month. It is said that they oppose the marriage on account of the youth of the lady and the age of the groom, but to no purpose. Miss Blaine, it seems, has a will of her own, and would not change her purpose. Col. Coppinger is an Irishman and a strict Roman Catholic. The Blaines are not tied to any particular creed, but they are not favorable toward Catholicism. The wedding will take place in the Catholic parsonage connected with St. Matthew's church, which is attended by most of the diplomatic corps.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR.

Another Rumor of His Impending Marriage.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 6.—A Washington special to The News says: 'President Arthur is said to be madly mashed on Miss Beckwith of New York city, who is here with her mother, staying at the Arlington for the season. She is very handsome and engaging, and very wealthy, thus possessing all the attractions. The president has entertained her at several private dinners at the White House, and she was one of the honored guests at the state entertainment. A well-known society lady informed me that on that occasion the president, Miss Beckwith, and her chaperone spent an hour and a half together inspecting the conservatory. The same fair informant assures me that ever since Miss Beckwith arrived in the city her table at the Arlington has been loaded with the rarest flowers from the executive green-house. To-day he arranged an excursion to Mount Vernon on the Dispatch in honor of his fair charmer, and with a select company they went to view the last resting-place of those model lovers, George and Martha. My lady informant expressed the opinion that "nothing would come of it," and recalled similar attentions on the part of the president to a charming widow last winter as evidence that he only amuses himself with such striking beauties as catch his fancy for a time, and has no serious intention of re-entering the matrimonial paradise. But a gentleman standing near thought differently. He said he had it from good authority that the widow of last winter might have been mistress of the White House to-day if she had said "Yes," instead of saying "No," when Arthur forwarded his proposition to travel down life's shellroad with her in double harness. It is hard to tell which story is right. Sometimes man proposes and woman disposes, and sometimes it is the other way, but I notice that most everybody finally gets married and goes to housekeeping.

A STRONG STOMACH.

Mr. Walcott Devours His Sixty Quail on Time, and Takes the Wager.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Mr. W. S. Walcott ate thirty quail in thirty days in 1877 on a private wager. Yesterday afternoon he completed the task of eating sixty quail in thirty days, and announced himself ready to eat ninety more in another thirty days. A wager of $350 a side was placed in Mr. Shepherd Knapp's hands by James Moffat and Gabe Case, the former betting that Mr. Walcott could eat two quail every day for thirty days, and Mr. Case betting to the contrary. The task was begun on Jan. 7, and ended yesterday. A few minutes before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. Walcott appeared at Case's hotel. He looked cheerful and walked with a springy step. The quail were served on a large platter, in the centre of which a full-feathered quail was artistically mounted on a mold of jelly. The eater, with a remark about being hungry enough to eat the centre quail, feathers and all, took one of the others on his plate, and in three and a half minutes nothing but the bones remained. Mr. Walcott then attacked the other bird, and in three minutes and forty seconds had demolished it entirely.

"How do you feel?" he was asked.

"First-rate," he replied.

"Could you eat any more quails?"

"As many as you like."

"Three a day for thirty days?"

"Yes, for sixty days."

He said further that at one time during the match he felt great nausea, and could hardly look at a quail, but after bracing up, he learned to like them. He was ready to make another match to eat three quail a day at any time. Mr. Case announced himself as entirely satisfied, and the stakeholder will turn over the money.

PETER ALLER,

J. W. WOODWARD,
Committee.

Report adopted.

Mr. Kimball, from committee No. 13, presented the following report and moved its adoption:

Report of committee on charitable and penal institutions:

To the Honorable, the Board of Supervisors of Rock County:

At the November session of this board a resolution was introduced and passed authorizing and establishing another standing committee to be called committee No. 13, "committee on penal and charitable institutions."

This committee now as a matter of data or starting point, beg leave to make a brief report as follows:

On January 3d of this year your committee visited the county asylum at the county farm, and made such examination of the condition of its inmates as the limited time at our disposal would permit, and therefore can only report in a general way.

The number of insane now at the asylum is...43
Males...20
Females...23

In the new building used for females the rooms were clean, the bedding good and of sufficient quantities, the furniture plain, simple but good. The inmates, with one exception, were quiet and apparently contented; sufficient clothing is provided for them, and scrupulously kept clean. The same condition would apply to the males who are kept in the old building, built for the insane several years ago. There has been marked improvement in health and condition of some of those received from the state hospital, that were deemed hopelessly insane. Notably of one person who has since been allowed to go home, and is at home at the present time, though not discharged. Another case, Mr. Rolfe, who was kept under restraint at the state hospital, has so improved since at the county asylum as to be allowed his full liberty, was taken out to ride several times during the fall by his daughter, and allowed to drive the horse, which would have been thought impossible in his case one year ago. Mr. Rolfe has proved himself a valuable assistant to Mr. Conant, working steadily at husking, and such other work as he could do. And so we might go on and name other instances of improvement in the mental condition of these unfortunate people, but do not deem it necessary at this time.

Your committee also learned another pleasing fact,—that the relatives and friends of those insane patients, who were strongly opposed to their removal from the state hospital, are now well pleased with the change, and would not under any circumstances, be willing for them to be taken to the state hospital again. The food given these insane patients is good, nourishing and palatable, being properly cooked (directly under the supervision of Mrs. Conant.) The bill of fare is as follows: Breakfast—meat, potatoes, bread, syrup, coffee, &c. Dinner—meat, potatoes, bread, butter and tea (hot corn cakes and soups are furnished once a week, hash twice a week.) Supper—bread and butter, doughnuts, (mush and milk once or twice per week, rice once a week.)

The matron of the asylum appears to be the right person in the right place, of kind disposition, sympathetic, but unyielding in the faithful discharge of her duties.

Of Mr. and Mrs. Conant too much cannot be said in praise; for by the untiring performance of duties devolving upon them, by the economical management of the farm, and by using the labors of the insane patients (both for indoor as well as outdoor) their judicious management has saved the county hundreds of dollars, that would be lost by incompetent oversight.

Your committee is of further opinion, that the salary now paid the superintendent is insufficient for the amount of labors and responsibility resting upon him, but will leave this matter to the discretion of the honorable board.

Your committee has also made an examination of the jail, its inmates and their surroundings, and cannot make a favorable report as they would wish. The accommodations are not sufficient for the number now incarcerated; that there is a difficulty in carrying out the sentences of the municipal court; that there is but little if any labor provided for the prisoners; that the ventilation of the jail is bad, very bad; sewerage faulty, and endangering not only the health of the prisoners, but health of the sheriff, turnkey, and their families.

Your committee would recommend that the building committee in conjunction with committee No. 13, make such improvements in the matter of ventilation and sewerage as the exigency of the case demands.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

R. J. BURDGE,
JAMES MENZIES,
FENNER KIMBALL,
Committee.

Report adopted.

Mr. Gardiner, from committee No. 5, presented the following report, and moved its adoption:

To the Board of Supervisors of Rock County—

Your committee to whom was referred the petition of Peter Johnson, to have his name changed to Peter Johnson Snorud, respectfully report the following order, and recommend its adoption by this board:

AN ACT to change the name of Peter Johnson—

SECTION 1st. The name of Peter Johnson, of the town of Plymouth, Rock county, Wisconsin, is hereby changed to Peter Johnson Snorud, and by the last mentioned name he shall be hereafter known and recognized in all courts and places.

SECTION 2d. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.

WM. GARDINER,
J. B. HARTLEY,
CHAS N. NYE,
Committee.

Report adopted, and act passed January 11th, 1883.

Mr. Gunn presented the following resolution, and moved its adoption:

Resolved by the Rock County Board of Supervisors:

That the sum of $7.00 is hereby appropriated to each one of the committee on claims, as compensation for the extra and arduous labor they have performed.

Resolution adopted; ayes, 25: noes, 0.

Mr. Gunn presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved by the Rock County Board of Supervisors:

That from and after this date, the county agent is hereby authorized to purchase all the wood and coal required for the use of the poor of the city of Janesville, and what coal is required for the county poor farm; and may retain the amount required to pay for the same from the funds appropriated for that purpose.

Mr. Greenman moved the resolution be made the special order for 1:30 o'clock p.m.

Motion adopted.

Mr. Kimball presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved by the Rock County Board of Supervisors—

That the sum of two hundred dollars be and is hereby appropriated, and be paid to the superintendent of the county farm (M. M. Conant) in addition to his salary for the year ending March 4th, 1883.

On motion of Mr. McIntyre, the resolution by Mr. Kimball was made the special order for 2 o'clock p. m.

Mr. Gardiner presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the county treasurer be and is hereby ordered to demand of the several cities and towns of Rock county, the amount of license money due to said county, from such cities and towns according to the statement made in the report of the majority of the special committee appointed at the November meeting of this board to investigate the matter of license money. And which report was adopted by this board on the 10th day of January, 1883. And report the result at the first meeting of the next board of supervisors.

Mr. Greenman presented the following as a substitute for the resolution by Mr. Gardiner and moved its adoption:

Resolved by the board of supervisors of Rock county:

That a committee be appointed to confer with committees to be appointed by the common councils and supervisors of the cities and towns interested as to payment of the license moneys, which have recently been made a subject of investigation by this body, and report the result of their labors at a future session of the county board.

Mr. McIntyre moved that the further consideration of the resolution by Mr. Gardiner and the substitute resolution by Mr Greenman be indefinitely postponed.

Motion adopted.

Mr. McIntyre from committee on claims presented the following report:

To the board of supervisors of Rock county:

Your committee No. 10, to whom were referred the following entitled bills, would respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and after a careful examination of all the items contained therein, recommend that the several amounts as set forth in this report be allowed each claimant respectively:

He will see that there shall be a thorough, prompt, and satisfactory delivery of the paper to the subscribers, and will collect arrears thereon, and also all other accounts due the Gazette. It will be the chief purpose of the manager of the Gazette to make the paper the best daily for the price published in the west. It has gained a wide reputation as a live and complete local and county newspaper, as well as urging and defending the principles in our political system which most fitly subserve the best interests of all the people. In addition to this, the Daily Gazette will publish each day from five to six columns of fresh telegraphic news covering the entire field of current events, beside daily installments of interesting miscellany. It May Save Your Life.

The manufacturers have yet to hear of a single case of Dyspepsia or Biliousness, when ZOPESA was used as directed, in which it was not more than satisfactory. Many write that it is a wonderful remedy. We can show where as high as 40 pounds were gained by its use in breaking up chronic Biliousness and Dyspepsia. Its friends increase very fast, and all who use as directed are surprised and gratified. For sale by Prentice & Evenson.

The Wounded.

This afternoon, in conversation with the attending surgeon, regarding the condition of the several persons who had been severely injured recently, we were informed as follows:

Mr. M. J. DeLent, who was injured last December, by being caught on a revolving shaft in the Doty works, was doing nicely, and improving in every way, with good prospects of saving his leg.

Mr. Ephriam Sheffield, who was injured by the pile driver, is doing well, and is now able to take his regular rations. He is fast recovering.

Little Wm. Welch, who broke his arm in the box factory, is able to be out, and will soon be all right again.

The Keystone of Health.

How can you expect to feel well, or even enjoy life, when you go about with a hacking cough? The fool, in his wisdom, says there is no cure for it, but the wise man hies him to Stearns & Baker's drugstore, and gets a bottle of Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure, and at once gets well. A trial bottle costs nothing.

The Weather.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

Ada Gray as Isabel.

To-night Miss Ada Gray, the well-known emotional actress, will appear at Myers opera house, in East Lynne, in which she will assume the role of Lady Isabel. Miss Gray ranks high as an actress as will be seen from the following notice from the Columbus, Ohio, Press: "Last night Miss Ada Gray made her first appearance before a Columbus audience, and at once won a place in their hearts. She is beautiful in person, with a rich voice that expresses every degree of emotion, and possesses the wonderful faculty of sinking self, as it were, for the time, into the character she represents. Her rendition of Lady Isabel in "East Lynne" was, in some respects, different from versions heretofore put on our boards by other artists, and, we think, a marked improvement. Miss Gray carries her audience with her, laughing with her in her happy moods, and weeping with her in her hours of grief."

See To It.

It tones and stimulates the Liver to action, it corrects the acids and regulates the bowels. A few doses will surprise you. Sample bottles 10 cents. Sold by Prentice & Evenson.

Frozen to death.

This morning Mr. James Furlong, who lives about two miles from Harvard Junction, was found in his cellar rolled up in blankets, frozen to death. He was living alone, and it is supposed that he was taken sick, and the fires being out, he went down cellar for the purpose of keeping warm, but the weather was so extremely cold, and he being unwell, met the above fate.

The Tennesseeans.

Donavin's famous Tennesseean's are to appear in Lappin's music hall on the evening of February 15th. In speaking of this company the Madison Democrat, of November 29th says: "Last night Donavin's Tennesseeans appeared in the opera house before a large and very appreciative audience. This was their first visit since 1874 and Madison people gave them a hearty welcome. That the Tennesseeans are what they claim to be, the Madison people can testify. It was evident to all before they had finished their "Welcome to-night" that this was the genuine company. They gave a most excellent idea of the fantastic wierd singing of the southern negro, under the spirited guidance of the shouting leader. The singers rolled forth strains which at one moment convulsed the audience with laughter and at another held them spell bound. As soloists they are first-class, as a chorus they excelled our most sanguine expectations."

Annual Convention of Wisconsin Officers.

The second annual convention of officers of the Wisconsin national guard will be held at Madison on the evening of February 14. In a circular issued by Adjutant General Chapman, we find the following:

"Officers paying full fare to Madison over either of the following named railways, will be returned on the same road at one-fifth fare, on presentation of the usual certificate of attendance on the convention: Chicago & Northwestern; Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul; Lake Shore and Western.

The following papers, or addresses, will constitute the programme for the first session: "Customs of the Service," by Colonel Charles King, A. D. C. "Gallery Rifle Practice," by Lieutenant F. A. Boutelle, 1st Cavalry, U. S. A. "Some Experiences as a National Guard Officer," by Lieutenant M. A. Newman, Adjutant 1st Regiment W. N. G. Colonel King's reputation as a writer on military subjects, and as an authority on all the details of military duty, with his large experience as an instructor, both at West Point and at the State University, insures an address of great practical value.

Lieutenant Boutelle is a "Creedmoor Man," and well known in the army as an expert in rifle practice, both as a marksman and as a specially successful instructor. The success of the system to which his paper relates is largely owing to his own experiments in that direction.

Lieutenant Newman needs no introduction to the Wisconsin National Guard. He is one of the most experienced officers. His effective work in the First Regiment, both as company and staff officer, has given him a fund of experience that guarantees a practically useful and interesting paper.
